

The Battle for Our Schools

Where did Critical Race Theory (CRT) come from and what are the other agendas that support it?

Before he wrote the Communist Manifesto, Marx told his followers that the most important thing they were to engage in was “A ruthless criticism of everything existing.” The Communist Manifesto, Marx, Engels and all their followers stressed destroying Western society as their first and primary goal. Destruction of our society would pave the way for them to impose Communism.

The Marxist School for Social Research (aka the Frankfurt School), was founded in 1923 in Frankfurt, Germany. It took up Marx’s call by creating “Critical Theory,” the goal of which was to criticize everything existing in Western Society. This included:

1. The creation of racism offenses
2. Continual change to create confusion
3. The teaching of sex and homosexuality to children
4. The undermining of schools’ and teachers’ authority
5. Huge immigration to destroy identity
6. The promotion of excessive drinking
7. Emptying of churches
8. An unreliable legal system with bias against victims of crime
9. Dependency on the state or state benefits
10. Control and dumbing down of media
11. Encouraging the breakdown of the family

Installed at Columbia Teachers College in 1933, the Frankfurt School professors launched Critical Theory in America. Today there are numerous downstream “Critical” theories. Critical Race Theory (CRT) is but one—created by Derrick Bell, Obama’s favorite Harvard professor. But the goal is the same with all of them: find an aspect of American society that can be criticized and rub salt in the wound, or create conflict where there was none. Critical Pedagogy, for example, justifies teaching concepts like “Social Justice,” and “Oppression” as legitimate goals of education, “The goal of critical pedagogy is emancipation from oppression through an awakening of the critical consciousness,” (Wikipedia).

In 1950, Frankfurt School Communists published The Authoritarian Personality, which characterized people according to an “F” scale (F for Fascist). The phony survey asked questions that forced a predetermined answer. In short, anyone who supported liberty, rule-of-law and other Western concepts, was by definition a fascist. CRT is shot through with justifications drawn from this phony study.

Noel Ignatiev, a Harvard Professor, former member of the SDS and hardcore member of the CPUSA, created the notion of White Privilege. In the introductory issue of his magazine Race Traitor, Ignatiev stated:

The way to abolish the white race is to challenge, disrupt and eventually overturn the institutions and behavior patterns that reproduce the privileges of whiteness, including the schools, job and housing markets, and the criminal justice system. The abolitionists do not limit themselves to socially acceptable means of protest, but reject in advance no means of attaining their goal.

Finally, Frankfurt school professor Herbert Marcuse, known as the father of both the New Left and the Sexual Revolution created the concept of “partisan tolerance,” in a paper titled Repressive Tolerance. In this paper, he argued that the only way to overcome America’s institutional repression is to silence all the Left’s opponents, using any and all means necessary.

The Left has never believed in free speech. They believe they should be able to say anything, but opponents need to be silenced. This comes directly from Lenin, who said:

Why should freedom of speech and freedom of the press be allowed? Why should a government which is doing what it believes is right allow itself to be criticized? It would not allow opposition by lethal weapons. Ideas are much more fatal things than guns.

As we know, the Left uses language to manipulate the public, cornering anyone who disagrees with them by using its own codewords that are difficult to argue against, like, *Environmental Justice *Decolonization *Systemic Racism *Cultural Competence *Inclusion *Equity *Racial Justice *Bipoc folx *White privilege/supremacy *Diversity *Social Justice. All of these are used in one way or another to promote CRT.

Now, the Islamic Left has added yet another wrinkle, introducing Christian Privilege, quite ironic since Christian teachings are being actively suppressed in schools while Islam is promoted. Canada, which is a canary in the coal mine for the U.S., now promotes CRT as a way to combat Islamophobia. And while we focus on CRT we forget about Social Emotional Learning (SEL) which is yet another indoctrination vehicle, now promoting CRT.

All of these elements are just innovations on the Left’s overall strategy to attack us from every angle they can come up with. They have congealed under the CRT mantle and are being used to “criticize everything existing.” It is of course, nothing more than a bald-faced power play, and it must be defeated.

Fighting Back

Individuals, groups and some state and local governments around the country are now focusing on toxic school boards and their campaigns of indoctrination to CRT, gay rights and transgender rights (really just grooming children for sexual exploitation and chaos). The primary focus that has ignited the nation however, is CRT. A few examples:

Elk River MN: Parents oppose CRT at school board meeting

Pennsbury, PA: Parent calls school board “fascist” for trying to impose CRT

Duval County, FL: Black mother protests over CRT to school board

Numerous movements have arisen within the states and nationwide, and school boards are being overtaken by conservatives in increasing numbers. An incomplete list follows.

Federal Efforts

1. Congressman Chip Roy's bill, the "Combatting Racist Teaching in Schools Act" (H.R 3163)
2. Congressman Dan Bishop's bill, the "Combatting Racist Training in the Military Act of 2021" (H.R. 3124).

Critical Race Theory is little more than state sponsored racism that aims to end the American experiment and replace it with Communism. It's a dangerous curriculum that is sweeping through elementary schools, universities, and even our military training.
